THE 1968 BOHEMIAN

THE BOHEMIAN

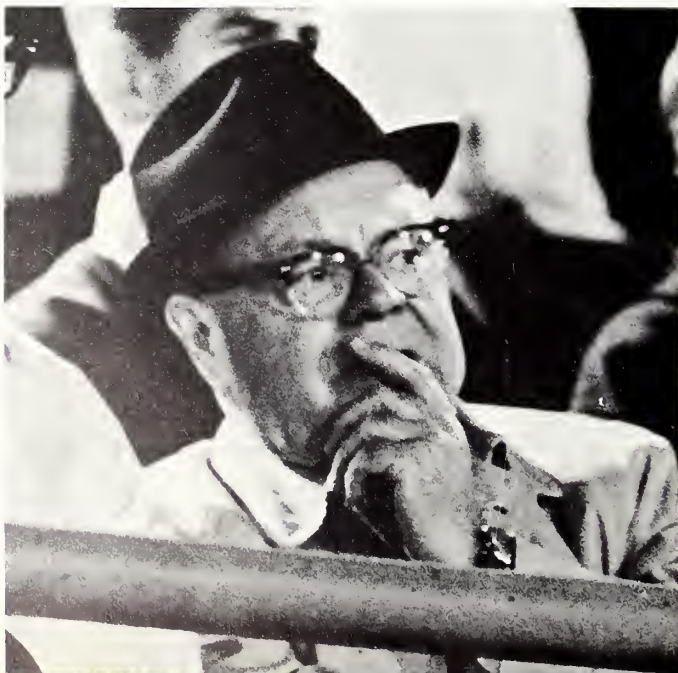

Joseph F. Patterson, editor

IN APPRECIATION

A page of appreciation cannot adequately represent the chapters that Dr. Charles F. Marsh has written in Wofford College's history. A man whose integrity is self-evident upon first contact, Dr. Marsh reflects with esteem the character of the College he has served. As President of Wofford, as an educator, and as a respected friend, he is unsurpassed. The Bohemian takes this opportunity to extend from the students, faculty, and administration heartfelt gratitude and warm wishes for the future to the retiring President of Wofford College, Dr. Charles Franklin Marsh.

DEDICATION

For diligence, for enthusiasm,

For exuberant interest and sympathetic understanding in the classroom and on the campus,

For all the rare qualities which establish a
Pennsylvanian as a true Southern Gentleman,

We dedicate the 1968 Bohemian to a scholarly instructor and warm friend,

Professor Ross Hawthorne Bayard

PROLOGUE

*I was the freshman . . .
With hope I came to see, to conquer a brave new world
Of cuffless trousers, dance and drink, of sleepless nights and long weekends
Of football games, occasional books, of cutting class and damning food.
Only to find this brave new world, while brave, while new—
Was a shadowy exterior of the old game called Life
That I had known before*

*Little had I anticipated
Amid the tumultuous insincerity of first back slaps and suave, much-practiced smiles
That too often I must know the horror of finding myself Alone.*

*With only a scrap of assignment sheet and a feeling of guilt as a guide to finding myself.
I turned to those near me, in the hum of midnight conversation, with question in my eyes, yet did not ask
For fear of being singled out*

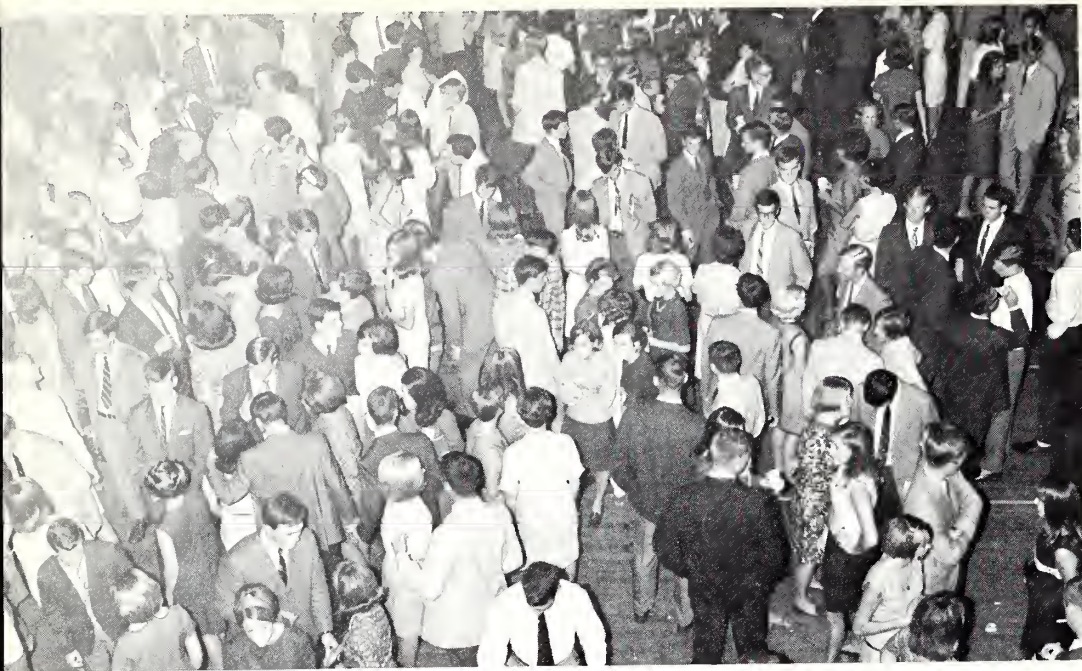

*As a questioner As one who tried to pull back the veil
Of mediocrity
Yet soon I did find that all of us
Were tugging at the veil, while obeying
The silent cream within us that said,
"Don't blow it all Four years is a mighty long time."*

*I was the sophomore . . .
A wise old man by now I called myself
For I had peered into those dark, intellectual realms and found
Not much that I could not understand.
But every now and then, very seldom actually,
When I had cleared my mind of the drone of pealing bells and shuffling feet and meaningless hellos
I sat there in the silence of that dark room
And reached out—desperately, frantically*

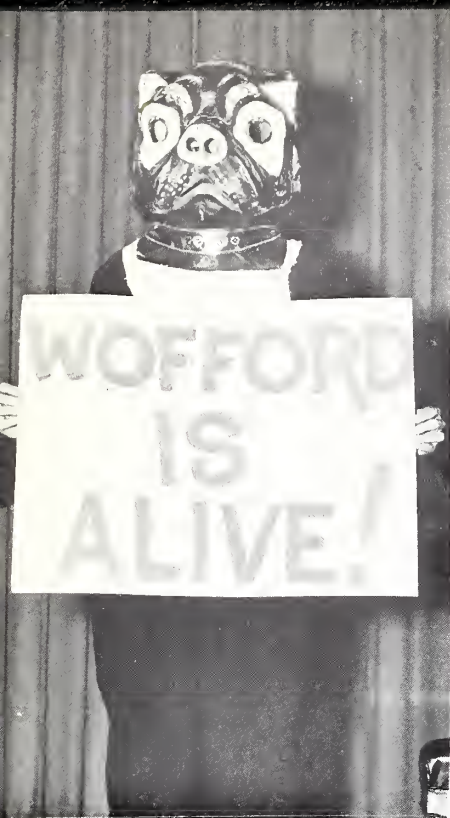

*I grasped for something
To close my hand around
And call right and call real and call good.
There had to be something there
Besides the emptiness and complacent, cheerful nothingness
That clouds my mind by day
And putrefies my dreams by night.
I looked in the face of my brothers that night
I watched them in the class, in gym, at drill and as they talked*

*I looked beyond the eyes, the smiles, the profane declarations of hate and disgust over the now of Life.
And found that they were searching, too,
As I was searching, as many others before us had searched
And I knew there was something real—a foundation for life, a value, I couldn't quite verbalize, but something
That made all this worthwhile.*

*I was the junior . . .
Finding that I would have to leave some things in this brave world to be conquered,
I took a deep breath and laughed long at Life
As I struggled toward a goal.
Mine were the joys of warm friendships and victory on the field.
And the sorrow of losing a friend
And the agony of defeat
I suffered in solitude.*

*Sometimes the ludicrousness was overwhelming
This constant drive toward something vague
This constant search for a life to sink my teeth into,
But things were beginning to mean
And people began to mean
And Life began to mean.
No longer was a book the despised reminder of tedious chore
But a friend—not my best friend, mind you—but a friend.*

WELCOME ALUMNI!

*And questioning and finding out and damning food and cuffless trousers and long weekends became the fringe
Of a tailored cloak I wore
With unpretentious hope.
Insincerity I found to be a mask that covered warmth
And much-practiced smiles only hid an invitation
To a real bond.*

*I tossed aside the veil of mediocrity
And established my selfness, wanting to face the world and say,
"I am not afraid." But fear was still
A part of life, as I continued
To be judged by others' standards.
And I decided that four years was not
Such a mighty long time.*

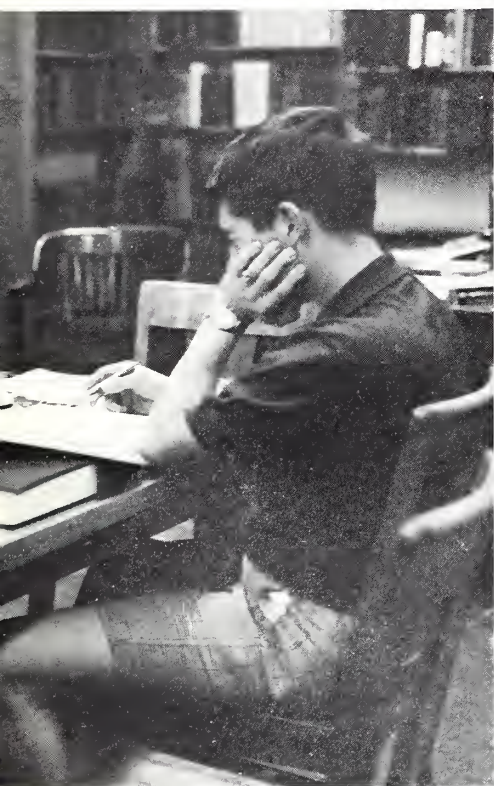

*I am the senior . . .
An aborigine of the brave new world
An architect of awe-inspiring edifices of ideas.
I am a gazer into the future, and a rememberer of the past.
I look ahead and see another, even several brave new worlds,
Waiting to be settled, to be conquered.*

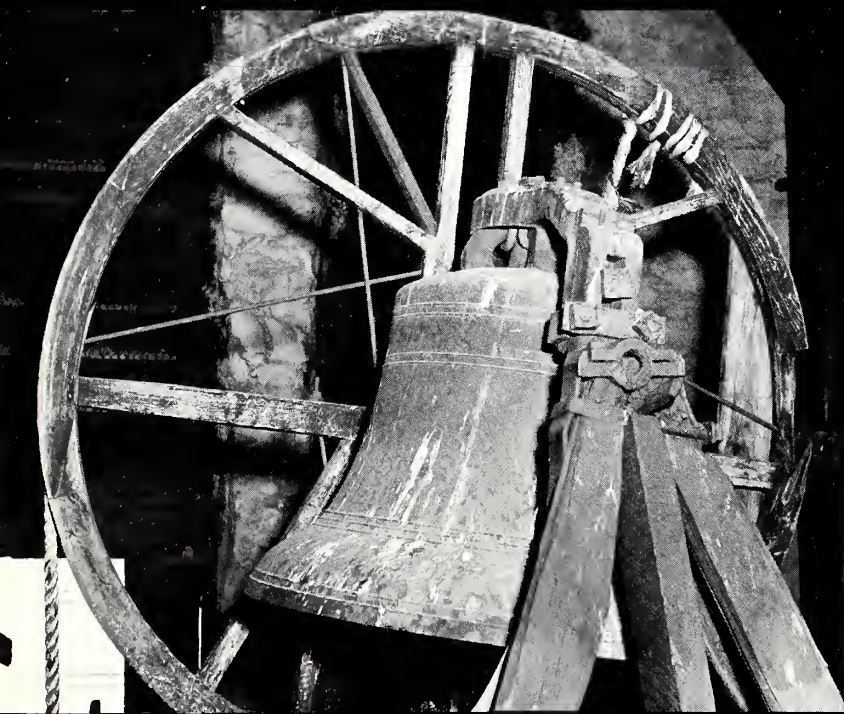

*And I look back upon a place that taught me
That virtue is not obsolete
That apathy cannot prevail
That integrity is earned, not bought.
And I looked back upon a place
Where pleasure and pain are mixed to taste like Life—*

*Neither bitter nor sweet, but somehow good.
And I look back upon a place
Where backslaps, books and long weekends
And toil and tears
And hate and love
Had weaned me on the milk
Of reality.*

*And I look back upon a place
I could call right
And call real
And call good
And I look back upon that place
With love.*

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The twenty-one member Board of Trustees is the policy making body of the college. Its main responsibilities are the transacting of school business, approving curriculum, and electing all college officials.

This year the most important function of the board was the selection of a man capable enough to succeed President Marsh upon retirement. After many months of deliberation, Paul Hardin III was chosen as the new President of Wofford College. The board also approved the plans for a student center and a new dorm; the new library now under construction was approved last year along with the present 4-1-4 curriculum.

Besides these contributions, the board also takes an active interest in student affairs and other phases of campus life. Through their efforts, this group of men has set the pace for rapidly and progressively growing Wofford College.

RECOGNITION OF SERVICE

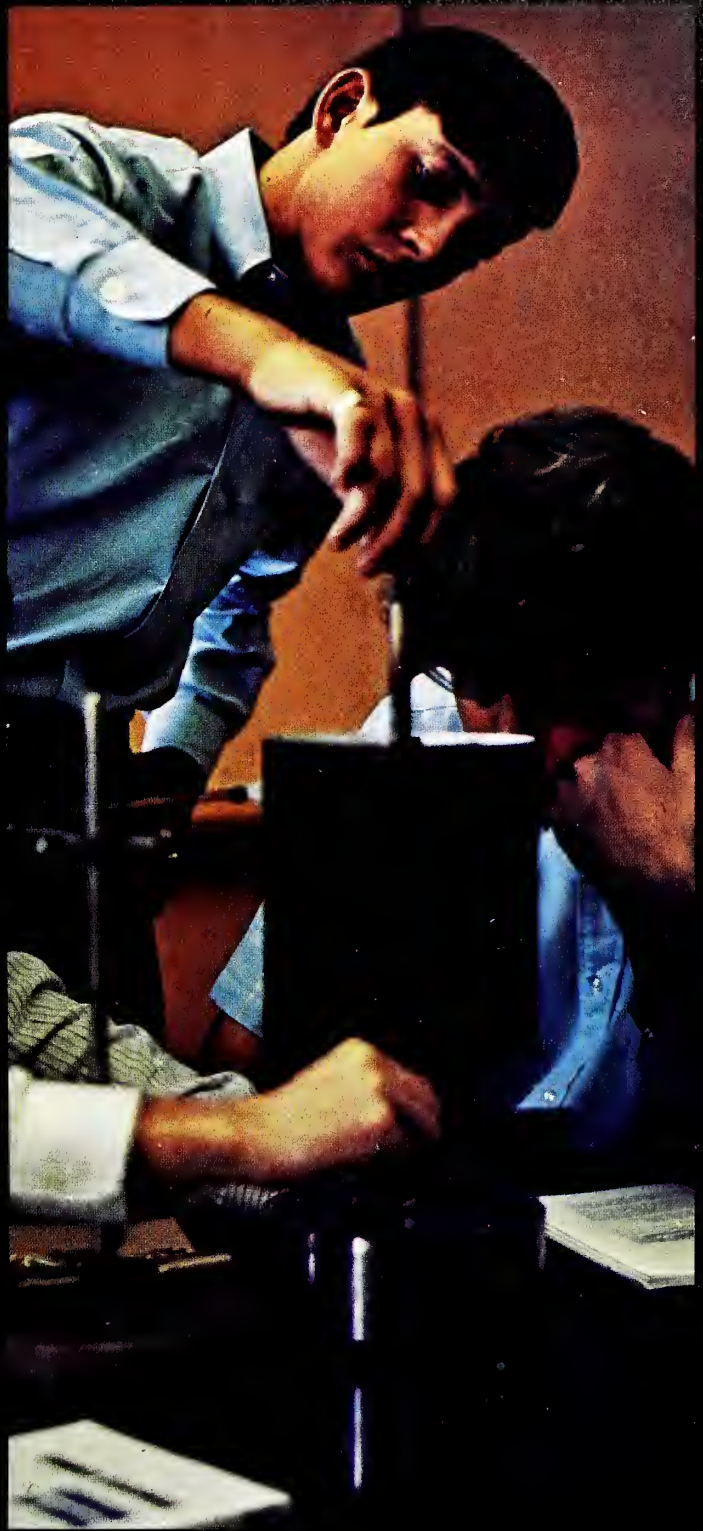

Few men have the talent to blend wisdom, humor, and tremendous teaching potential so that they inspire their students and bring them closer to an understanding of life and the universe. This year, however, Wofford College loses just such a man. Dr. Lester Colloms, retiring professor of philosophy, has, in his years of teaching, enabled many Wofford men to approach the essence of truth. He has made an outstanding contribution to the College in innumerable ways. The 1968 Bohemian proudly expresses deep gratitude to Dr. Colloms on behalf of the entire Wofford College community.

Maybe we'll lose the game too . . .

Ho! Ho! Ho! . . . And what do YOU want for Christmas!

Our leader — "Stretch"

How would I ever survive in weather like this without my ROTC training?

Phi Beta Kappa was founded December 5, 1776, at William and Mary College, in Williamsburg, Virginia. It was the first society to have a Greek letter name. From that humble beginning in one of the cradles of the American nation and its transplanting to other parts of the country, the society has spread throughout the entire nation and has become one of the most respected organizations of its kind in the world.

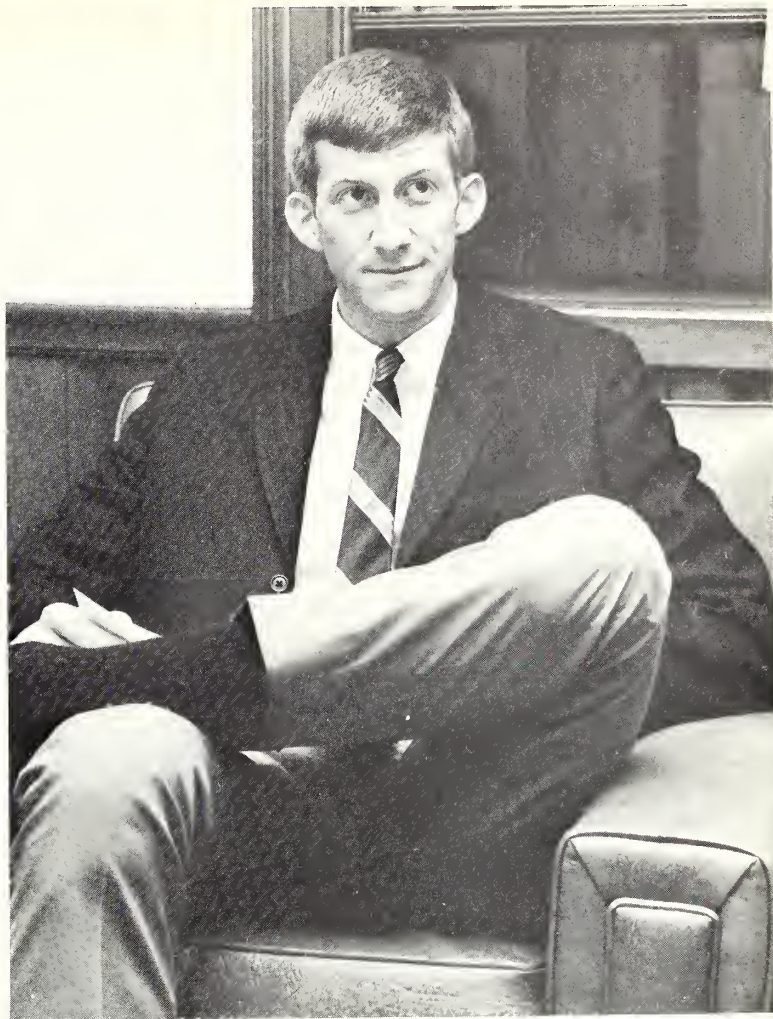

The Wofford Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Beta Chapter of South Carolina, was chartered in 1941. Election to Phi Beta Kappa is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a person by Wofford College. Election to the society is a recognition of intellectual capacities well employed, especially in acquiring an education in the liberal arts and sciences.

SENIOR ORDER OF GNOMES

Neal Workman Dickert

The 1968 Senior Order of Gnomes consists of three of the most prominent and influential men in the Senior Class. They were elected in 1967 by the out going members on the basis of intellect, willingness to serve Wofford, and interest in fellow students. As a result of their selection, they have obtained one of the highest and most coveted honors that can be bestowed upon a Wofford student.

CIRCLE K

Leadership, character, and service are the main qualifications for membership in Circle K. It is sponsored by Kiwanis International and is a well respected national service organization.

Circle K got its start at Wofford in the early 60's and has continued to be an industrious service group. Even though its active membership is mostly made up of underclassmen, it has made several significant contributions to the college community throughout the year.

One of the club's most worth-while projects was the sale of corsages at Homecoming. This proved to be a great success; it was profitable! As a result of the money they made at Homecoming, the members decided to donate it to the foreign exchange student drive sponsored the S.G.A., the S.C.C., and the I.F.C.

In addition to the corsage sale, Circle K also supports campus improvement projects, assists in such events as graduation, and takes an active interest in the problems of the entire Spartanburg community.

DELTA PHI ALPHA

Delta Phi Alpha, the national honor German fraternity, seeks to honor excellence in German and to give students thereby an incentive for higher scholarship. Upperclassmen who have high scholastic standing in German are eligible for membership.

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science honor society, attempts to improve its members' understanding of government, sociology, psychology, economics, and history. In order to qualify for membership in the Wofford Chapter, a student must have at least a 3.0 in twenty or more hours of the social sciences. Through lectures, discussions, and research, the members analyze social problems facing our modern society.

Psi Chi, Wofford's professional psychology fraternity, encourages scholarship in the field of psychological research. Membership in this honor fraternity is by invitation only. The major purpose of Psi Chi is to provide its members with an understanding of psychology, and the future it offers as a profession.

SIGMA DELTA PI

Since 1952 Sigma Delta Pi has been a part of the college community, and it has recognized those students who have excelled in Spanish. This national honorary Spanish fraternity is open to upperclassmen who have exhibited their skill in both the written and the spoken language. One of the major goals of its members is to promote a better understanding of all Spanish-speaking people throughout the world.

EXECUTIVE CABINET

Seated: Neal Dickert. Standing: Tommy Tokunougo, Joe Potterson, Stumpy Rhodes, John Linton, Woin White, Fronk Pickens, Bill Ponder, Bunt Wilson.

The Student Government Association has as its main purpose the promoting of student interests on the Wofford Campus. This is accomplished by the close liaison between students, faculty, and administration. The students themselves are able to do this through their elected representatives who are constantly on the alert for complaints and requests voiced within the confines of the campus.

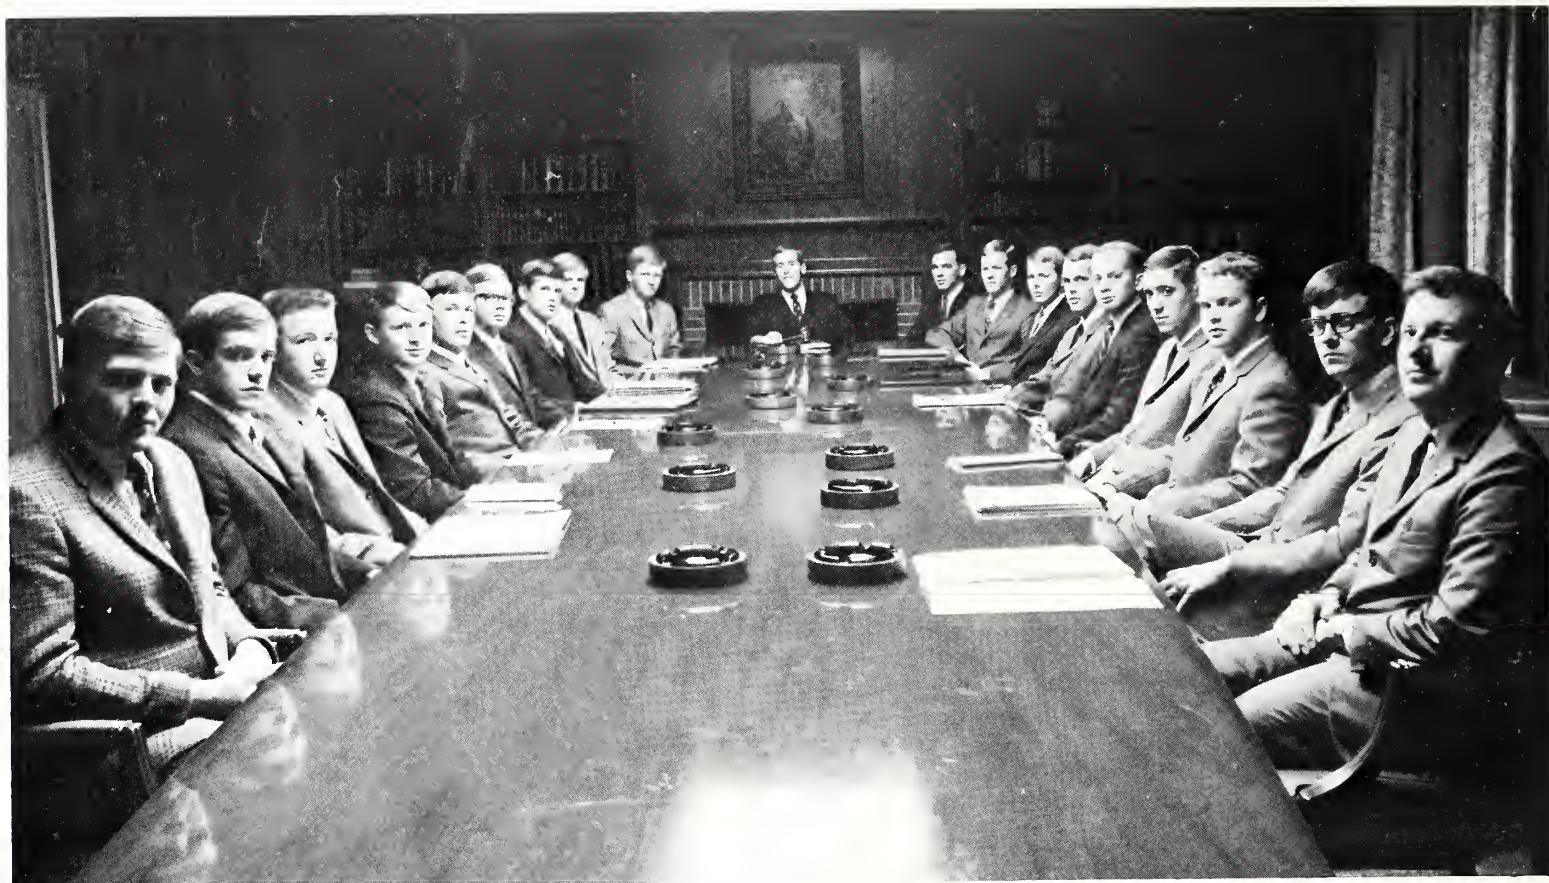

Although tradition has been the basis for most of the present policies at Wofford, the SGA has done much this year that is progressively new. So it seems that the students at Wofford have this year, and will in the years to come experience a more liberal way of campus life.

SGA ADVISOR

Prof. Ross H. Boyord

As part of the SGA, the Senate is the main link between faculty, students and administration. Within the Senate, elected representatives attempt to obey the requests of their publics on such matters that may arise during the school year.

Each class is entitled to four representatives in the Senate. In addition to these class senators, there are also four senators-at-large. The SGA itself appoints the Vice-President of the organization to preside over the Senate.

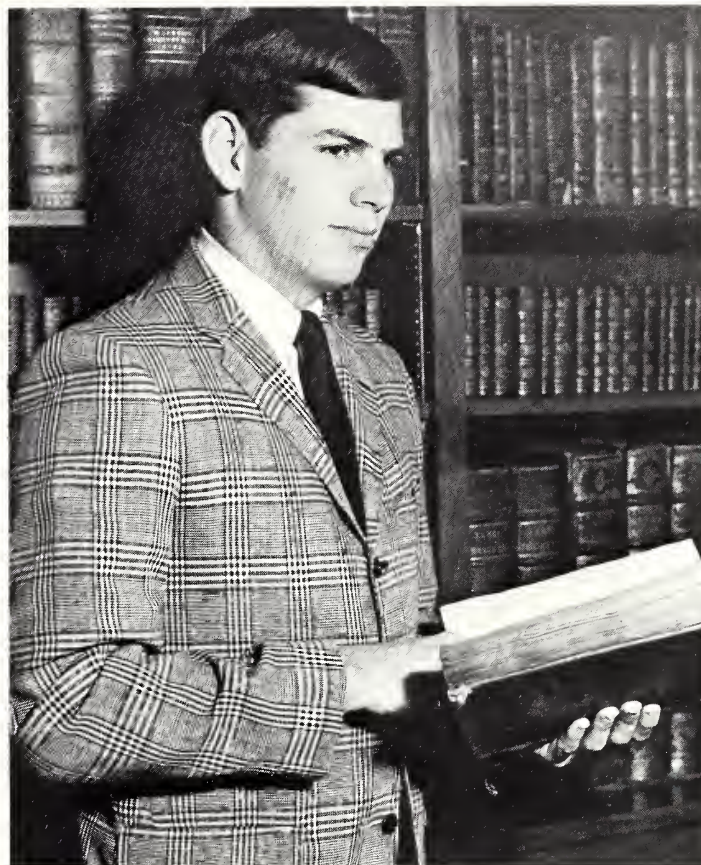

This year, the Senate has passed a Chapel Revision Bill, revised the constitution of the SGA, eliminated room inspection, eliminated the six-day class week, and established a Freshman Chapel Committee as an aid in improving the Saturday chapels which are required of all Freshmen.

In addition to the above, the SGA has also taken an active part in the publicizing of the Wofford Interim projects. Earlier this year, the SGA participated in the Model United Nations at Furman University as well as in SUSGA and S. C. State Student Legislature.

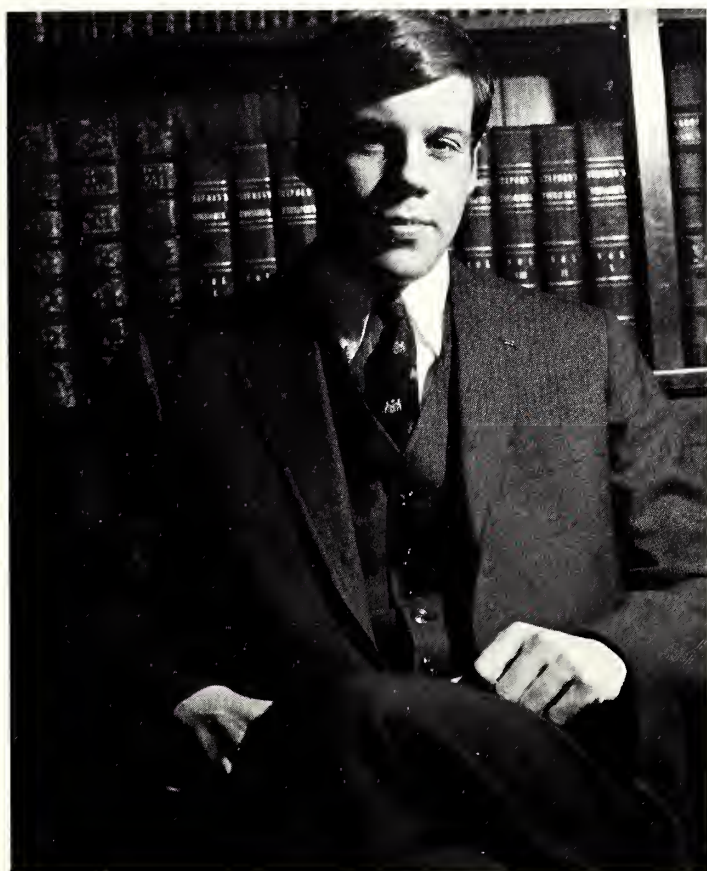

THE JUDICIAL COUNCIL

Chuck Compton

Morvin Grooms

John Wilson

Primarily concerned with the handling of students who break the major rules of the college, the Judicial Council is composed of both students and faculty. Each member of the Judicial Council, whether he be a student or faculty member is entitled to equal power in deciding what should be done to a violator of college regulations.

Cases handled by the Judicial Council include those of cheating, stealing, and lying. Overtly, anything which is considered not to be in good taste of Wofford College's idea of a gentleman is dealt with by this organization. Such cases as the above can be reviewed by the council regardless of the location of the alleged violation.

Although there are no set methods by which the Judicial Council must follow when they review a case, the authority invested within this organization permits the acting members to suspend a violator from the school for as much as an entire year.

RESIDENCE HALL BOARD OF STANDARDS

Discipline! That's the main purpose of the Residence Hall Board of Standards—more commonly known as the R.H.B.S.

As a result of a 1966 student government recommendation, the Board was formed to coordinate dorm life on the Wofford campus. Its major concern is the administering of discipline for minor violations committed in the residence halls, and the hearing of student appeal concerning disciplinary actions in the halls.

The members of the Board are appointed by the S. G. A. President and approved by the Student Activities Committee before they take office. The chairman of this board is always the Attorney General of the Student Government Association.

Through the efforts of the R.H.B.S., the students at Wofford have become more aware of the fact that they must respect the rights of their fellow classmates and protect the facilities in which they are housed.

Frank Pickens, chairman

SOCIAL RECREATIONAL BOARD

Providing big name and quality entertainment for the Wofford student body on its major weekends is the SRB's prime objective. Innumerable complications were faced, but defeated as Homecoming 1967 rolled around.

Carla Thomas performed at the Homecoming Dance and was well-received. She replied with "Gee Whiz", "Baby", and numerous other sweet notes. Saturday night welcomed better-late-than-never Martha and the Vandellas as they put their best feet forward with the sounds of "Jimmy Mack", "Dancing in the Street", and other favorites during a controversial thirty-two minute performance.

Glenn Yarbrough and company carried the Spring Weekend crowd away with a variety of great music and showmanship. Jerry Butler, backed by the "Jesters", rocked the Armory on Saturday night. Spirits were high as many crossed "Moon River" with "Mr. Dream Merchant" . . .

The SRB gained invaluable experience from this year's ventures. Many good ideas have evolved and will become realities in the future.

THE PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Composed of faculty and student representatives, the Publications Board has as its primary concern the supervision and maintenance of the three student publications — the Old Gold and Black, the Journal, and the Bohemian. The responsibility of electing the editors and business managers of these publications is the board's initial function, but more important is its responsibility to maintain the standards and purposes which these publications possess.

As the college magazine, The Journal provides the students with a means of expressing their best literary form. The character of this publication consists of intellectual editorials, creative essays, stories, and poems; and it is published four times during the academic year—October, December, March, and May.

OLD GOLD AND BLACK

INTAMINATIS FULGET HONORIBUS.

Jim Price, business manager

Sweat, and toil goes into organizing a college newspaper which is often disregarded rather than appreciated by many students, but Wofford has a publication in which the students take pride. Due to the dedication of the Old G & B's staff, our newspaper has been more than just a bulletin board to the college community — it has been a thought provoking and informative source of communication on the Wofford campus.

The 1967-68 staff experienced an uncommon situation by having two editors during the course of one year. Eventhough the weekly publication was not issued during the interim period, it continued to be a mainstay in promoting campus activity during first and second semester. The Old G & B is to be applauded for the contribution it makes to "Sons of Ben."

Dr. Carlyle Marney, "The New Folk", "High Sign", the "Oasis of Tranquility" — these combined with many interesting group discussions exemplify the unique effort of our Student Christian Council to create a challenging and thought-provoking atmosphere encouraging true self-examination and perhaps re-evaluation.

The long range objective of this year's SCC despite its quite different approach was to promote an awareness of the Christian doctrines and attitudes which it is hoped might have an effect upon Wofford men throughout their lives.

DIRECTOR AND CONDUCTOR

Of the many bands and glee clubs within the Spartanburg area, perhaps the most well known are those which originate on the Wofford and Converse College campuses. Throughout the entire year, the Wofford-Converse Concert Band performs not only before the students of Converse and Wofford, but also before the public.

The Wofford College Glee Club is even more ambitious and to prove their point, they take annual road tours which carry them to such fabulous places as Maimi, Washington, and New Orleans.

Under the direction of John W. Coker, Professor of Music at Wofford, both the Wofford Glee Club and Wofford-Converse Concert Band are growing admirably in quality and fame.

INDEPENDENT RECREATION ASSOCIATION

Left to right: seated—Garfield Rasengren, president; and John Smith, secretary. Standing—John Fleming, treasurer; and Marion Dunn, social chairman.

Recognizing that approximately fifty percent of the Wofford student body is independent, the Independent Recreation Association was organized in the fall of 1967 to provide these students with more entertainment opportunities. Although the I. R. A., as it is more commonly called, is primarily set up as a social outlet for non-fraternity men, it is open to the entire student body. The I. R. A. sponsored three successful dances and has participated actively in intramurals, and its members are engaged in many phases of campus life.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Service — that is the watchword of one of the most active organizations on the Wofford College campus, Alpha Phi Omega. Many varied tasks are performed by this nationally organized fraternity uniting its members with a common goal of service to the student body and faculty, to youth and the community; to fellow members of the fraternity, and to the nation as participating citizens.

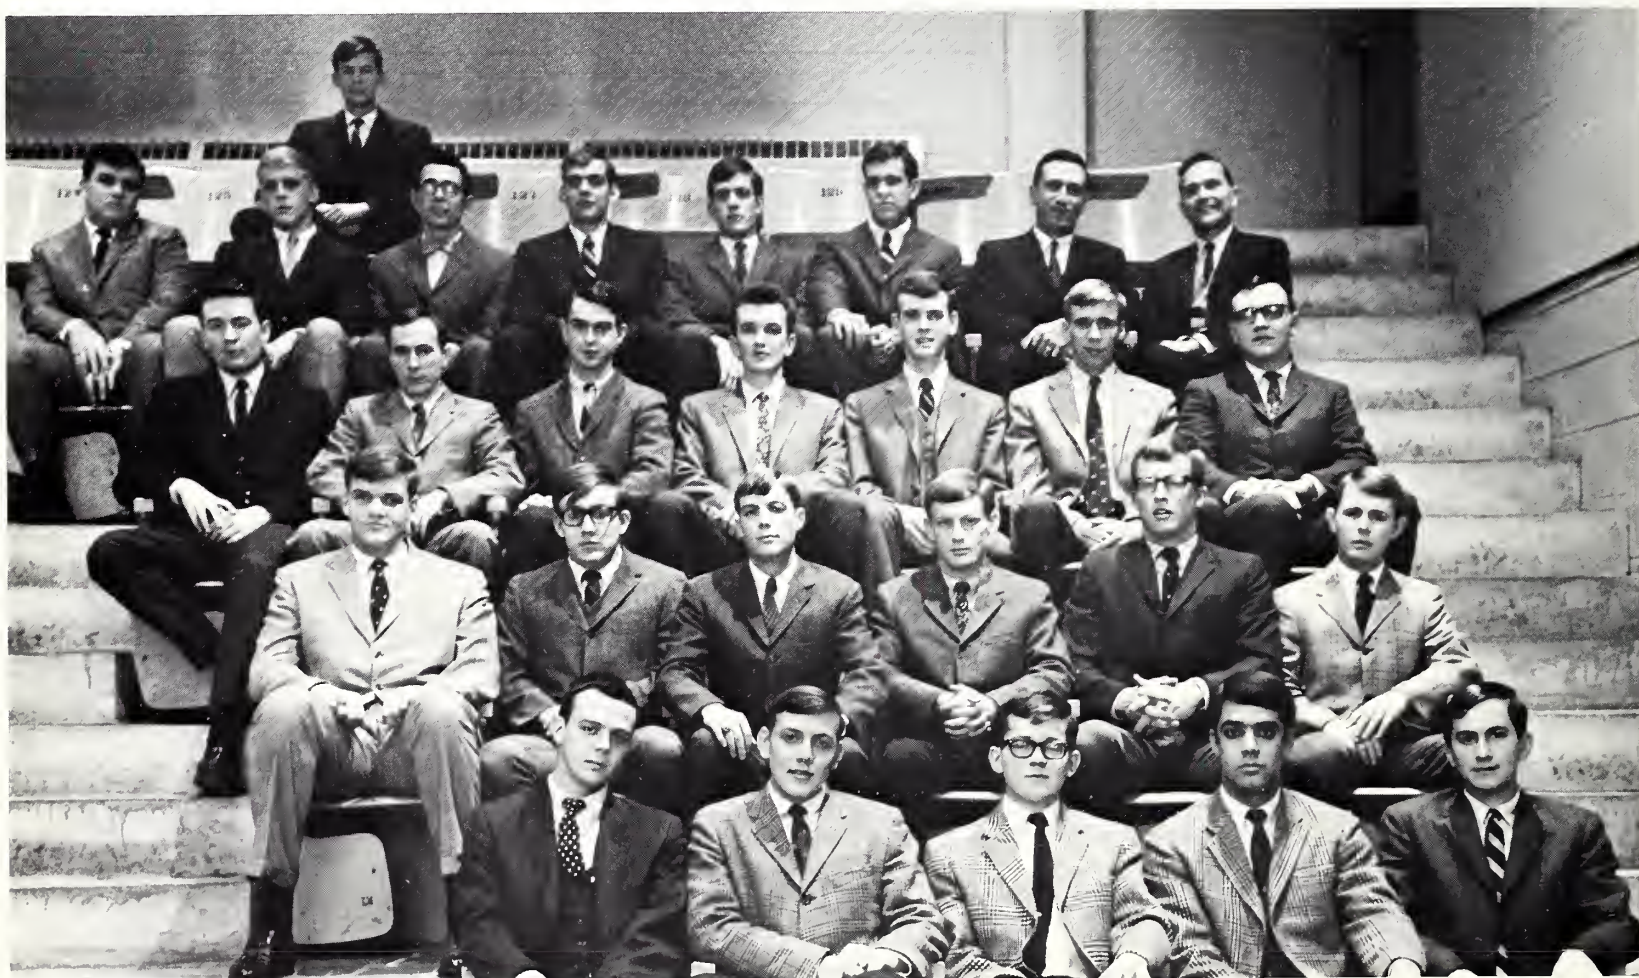

During this past year, A Phi O has served in many varying capacities whenever requested and has performed many other self-initiated services in a spirit exemplary of the organization's objectives.

Hyperopics was founded on the principle that all fields within a liberal arts college have same degree of interrelation. At regular meetings, members of Hyperopics discuss major topics of interest, each sharing apinians fram his particular field af interest. This organization is campased of the outstanding major fram each department in the College, as selected by the faculty af that department.

CULTURAL PROGRAM COMMITTEE

Guest Speakers

The planning and coordination of the myriad of Wofford College Chapel programs and other such events on campus have been the responsibility of the Cultural Programs Committee, whose members are selected from both the faculty and the student body.

This year the great variety of "cultural" affairs has ranged from addresses and discussions by many outstanding local speakers; through dramatic presentations, a Blue Key exchange program from Presbyterian College, Religious Emphasis and Fine Arts Focus weeks, the momentous ground breaking ceremony for the library; to events featuring foreign personalities or groups including a Liberian, a Tibetan, and "The New Folk."

The aim of the Cultural Programs Committee has been to present programs which would help increase communications within the college, cognizance of local and world affairs, and sophistication of the individual student and of the entire Wofford College community.

"Whamp'em up side the head", "GO! GO! Get 'em! Get 'em! Unh! Unh!", and "Give 'em Hell Terriers" are just a few of the cheers which the Wafford gentlemen and Converse ladies led in an effort to instill spirit into the team and the student body alike. Under the leadership of Head Cheerleader Frank Morris, the squad has done an outstanding job of leading the team to victory and making defeat a more tolerable situation.

MORGAN RIFLES

ROTC offers many advantages to the cadet which are not evident at the regular Monday afternoon drill. Among these opportunities are the Morgan Rifles, a precision drill team, and the Rifle Team, which offers students the chance to compete in intercollegiate matches.

RIFLE TEAM

ROTC BAND

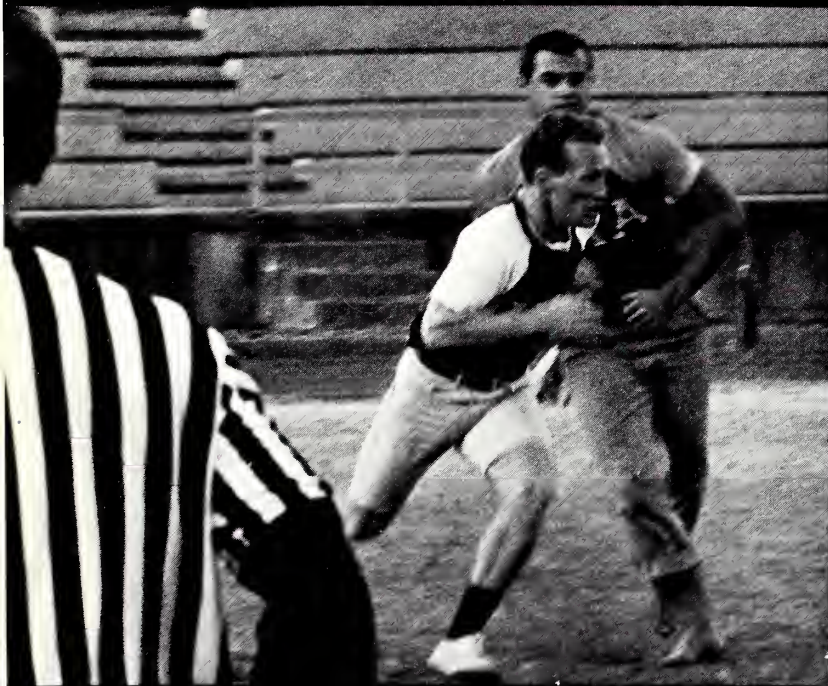

The R.O.T.C. Band serves a dual function, for it is the official band of the College as well as a military band. The R.O.T.C. Band also represents the College at such functions as Christmas parades, football half-time shows, and formal inspections

COLOR GUARD

The Color Guard represents the College and the Military Department by participating in parades, inspections, and at athletic events. The precision and esprit de corps of this unit is indicative of the team morale displayed by the entire R.O.T.C. Battalion.

The Inter-fraternity Council is the embodiment of the seven national fraternities represented on Wofford's campus. Through this body, the Greek activities are planned and coordinated, whether they are on an individual or a collective basis. Serving as the governing body for the entire fraternity system, the I.F.C. ranks as one of the most important and necessary organizations at Wofford College.

Always striving to boost fraternal ideals and images, the I.F.C. is responsible for many worthwhile activities on campus: the rush program, Homecoming events, the annual blood drive, Christmas parties for underprivileged children, Greek Week activities, Wofford-Converse field day, and intramurals—to name but a few.

Through the leadership of President Randy Loftis, assisted by other officers and members, this year's I.F.C. programs have proven successful in their academic and social endeavors.

The Pika's Rout the Codets at the Citadel Beach House

1967-1968 ... a banner year for Pi Kappa Alpha's Nu Chapter ... national awards ... ninth in general chapter proficiency ... honorable mention in the race for the best financial record ... takes honors as the chapter having the best pledge training program in the country.

On campus, Nu Chapter "shines with untarnished honor" ... President S.G.A. ... Treasurer S.G.A. ... eight Senators ... in the publishing arena ... editor of the Old Gold and Black ... editor of the Journal ... PKA representation in the S.C.C., Judicial Council, and the I.F.C. found at a maximum.

Ronnie Bruce and Art Fusco head up the biggest frat on campus ... rush highlighted by the pledging of seventeen new members ... parties everywhere ... Brother Merchant draws the winning number as his pinmate, Suzanne Bell, is named Sweetheart of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Always forging ahead, Pi Kappa Alpha will strive, in the years to come, to maintain its illustrious ideals and the honorable Brotherhood which they support.

The Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity was founded on December 10, 1904, at the College of Charleston, Charleston, South Carolina. Founded on the principals of Scholarship, Leadership, Personality development, and Social life, Pi Kappa Phi is old enough to be of value and young enough to accomplish.

Zeta Chapter, one of over 100 undergraduate and alumni chapters, was the fifth chapter in Pi Kappa Phi to be chartered. One of seven fraternities on Wofford Campus, it has grown and proved itself in the principals of its founding fathers—and its still growing, keeping in mind at all times that once a Pi Kapp, always a Pi Kapp.

A superior pledge class resulting from an untiring effort on the part of the Fraternity . . . casual drop-ins (sometimes drop-outs) at parties with the "Red Coats", or whoever they were . . . "Soul Inc." and costume parties providing us with a fantastic Homecoming . . . a promising second semester rush . . . but who needs it? . . . the Fraternity eagerly awaiting the week of the Greeks and all of its "festivities" . . .

Toward the end of the year, Spring Alpha Epsilon pays tribute to its seniors at the annual Senior Banquet. Always regarding highly the SAE ideal, the men composing this year's Senior Class well deserve the distinction of having greatly contributed in keeping Sigma Alpha Epsilon number one on campus.

COACHING STAFF

Wofford's Athletic Staff had a new member and several old faces in new positions in 1967-68, but the effort made and the results remained unchanged. Working long hours to do the work of many, the Terrier coaching staff again produced a group of exciting teams with great promise for the future.

Warren Whittaker, student assistant; Duane Stober, trainer and track coach; Jim Brakefield, head football coach; Conley Snidaw, athletic director and backfield coach; Gene Alexander, basketball coach, end coach, and assistant athletic director; Tadd Heldreth, baseball and backfield coach.

The 1967 football season was a year of ups and downs, but more important it was a year of learning. Short of depth and experience, the team was sometimes outclassed, but by season's end, the guidance of new coach Jim Brakefield had developed a fine football squad.

There were six seniors on the team — captains Ron McGrady and Ronnie Wilson, Dave Viccellio, Bill Burk, Craig Hayes, and Brooks Bannister, and they will be hard to replace.

But coming back are All-State halfback Ted Phelps, leading rusher Chris Hanson, All-State and All-District tackle Sidney Allred and All-State safety Jimbo Jacobs. This quartet, plus a strong group of veterans, and rising sophomores, should make 1968 a year to remember for Terrier fans.

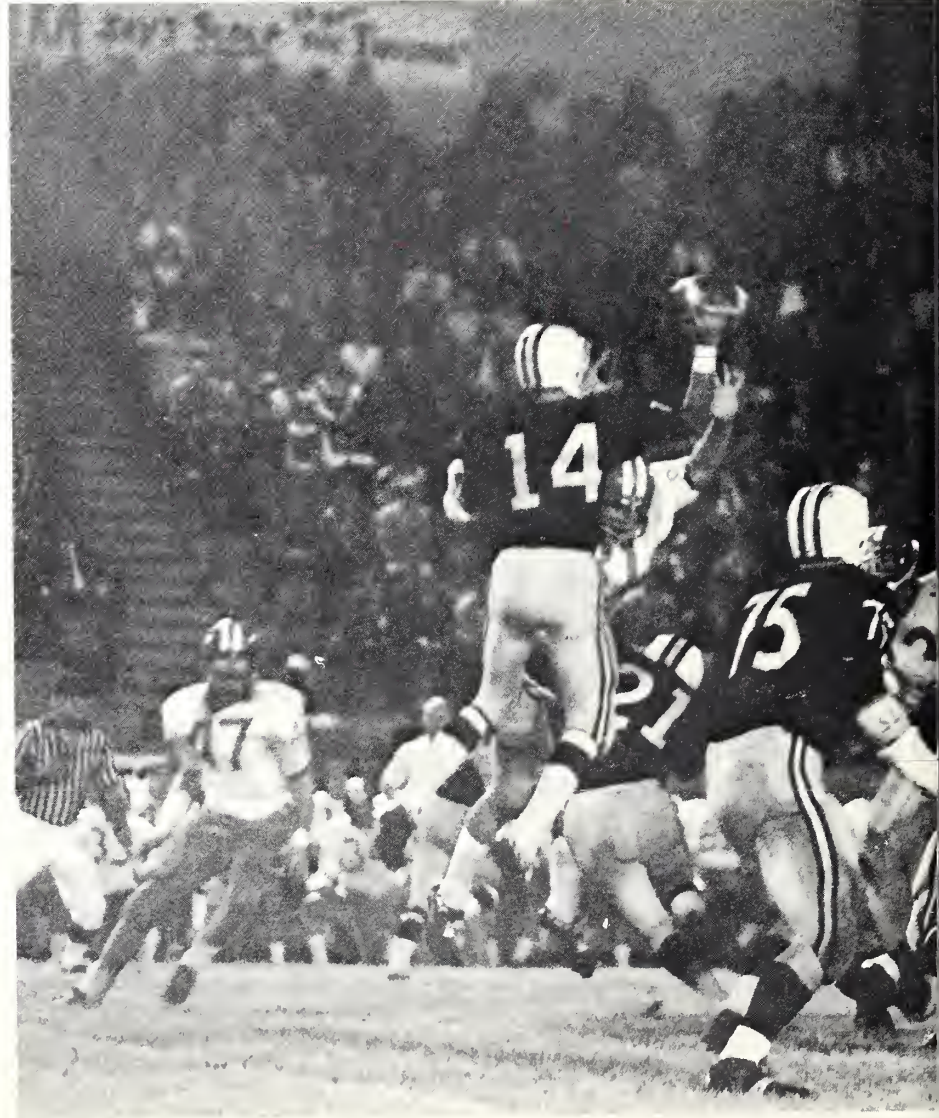

Nothing went right as the season got underway. Hampered by injuries, the Terriers were overwhelmed 53-7 by Lenier Rhyne, the nation's ninth best small college team. The next two weeks saw the Citadel and Presbyterian take hard earned 17-7 and 20-0 victories from the determined but outmanned Woffard team.

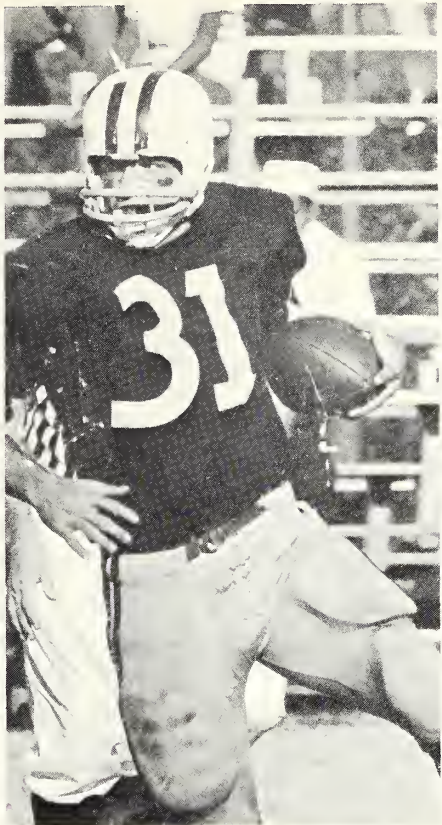

The turnabout came in the fourth game of the season, which the Terriers lost 21-20 on a very bad break. After leading for most of the game, they saw a short pass by the Paladins fall right into the hands of halfback Jimmy Jordan who scored the winning touchdown.

Newberry was next on the schedule, and Woffard was determined to break the losing streak. Chris Hansan gained 160 yards to lead the team to its eighth straight victory over the Indians by a 14-0 margin. The next week, Frederick gained a total of minus six yards against a very tough Terrier defense and fell 32-0.

After coming from behind to down Appalachian 27-24, the Terriers dropped a 21-17 Homecoming heartbreaker to Catawba, being stopped twice in the shadow of the Indian goal posts. Davidson thrashed a flat Woffard team 30-6, but the Terrier bounced back again for a 30-6 win over Carson-Newman in the season's final game.

Small gyms, big gyms . . . Pembroke, North Carolina and Atlanta, Georgia . . . tragedy and triumphs . . . upsets, for and against . . . these were the elements that made up Wofford basketball, 1967-68. The final record, 12-17 was not one that will be long remembered, but the super efforts the team came up with almost without warning will be — a sensational week that included a romp over Mars Hill, 68-60 triumph at the Citadel, and a tough fight against the Buccaneers of East Tennessee, the Ohio Valley Conference champion, on their home court . . . the 71-68 triumph over Furman as the team came back from the deepest hole this side of Calcutta. It was a season of Littlefield fighting off three Georgia Tech guards to get the ball up the floor . . . of Hendrix doing his diving and scrapping after an elusive basketball . . . of Pegram having a fine senior year and winding up his career as the fourth biggest scorer in Wofford history . . . of Payne swishing one from thirty feet . . . of Reed electrifying the Furman crowd as few freshmen can do . . . of Hysong pulling down another rebound . . . a season of promise not quite fulfilled, but a season of excitement, nonetheless.

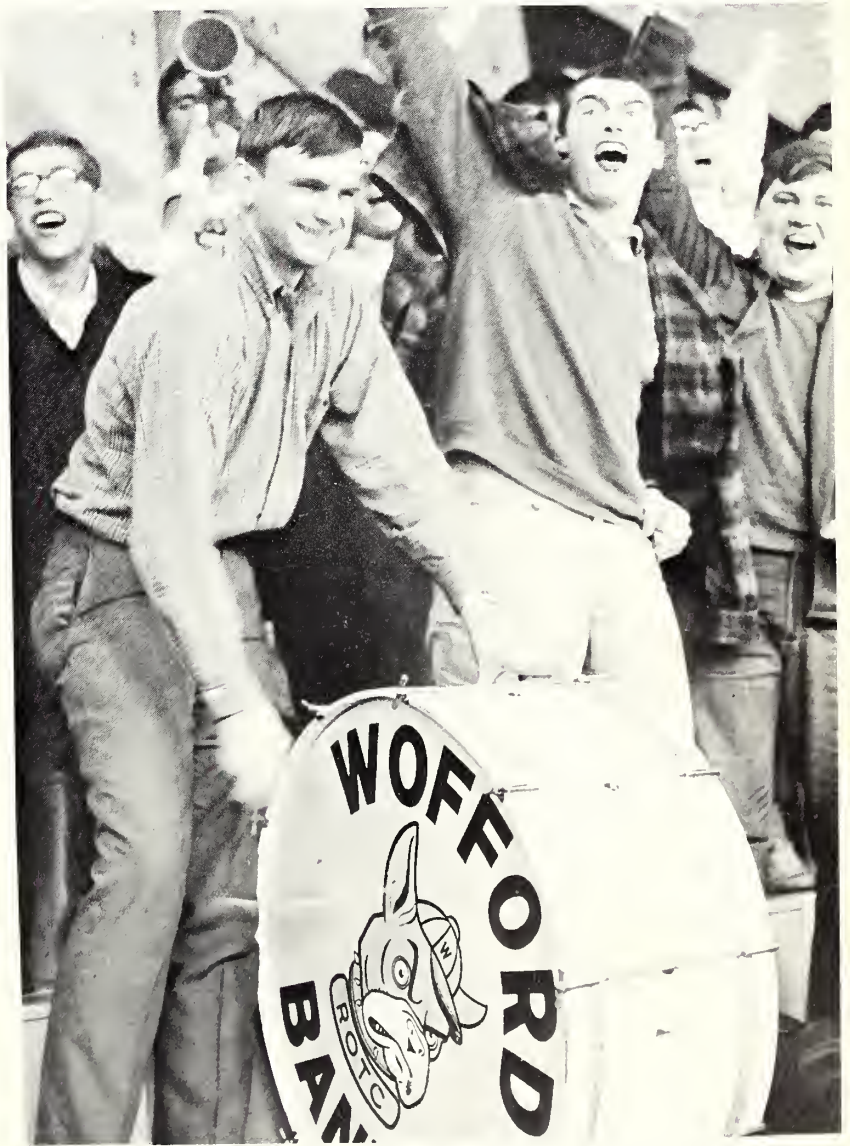

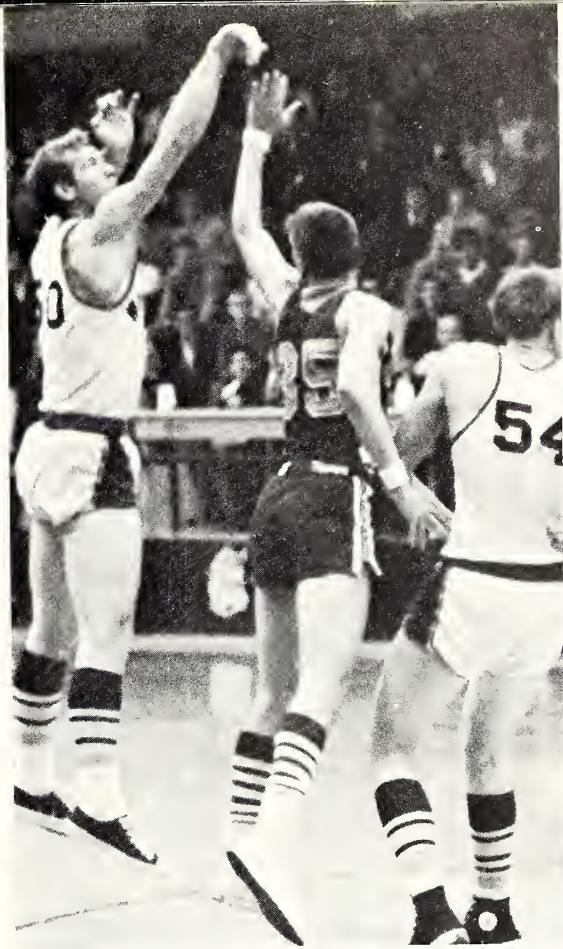

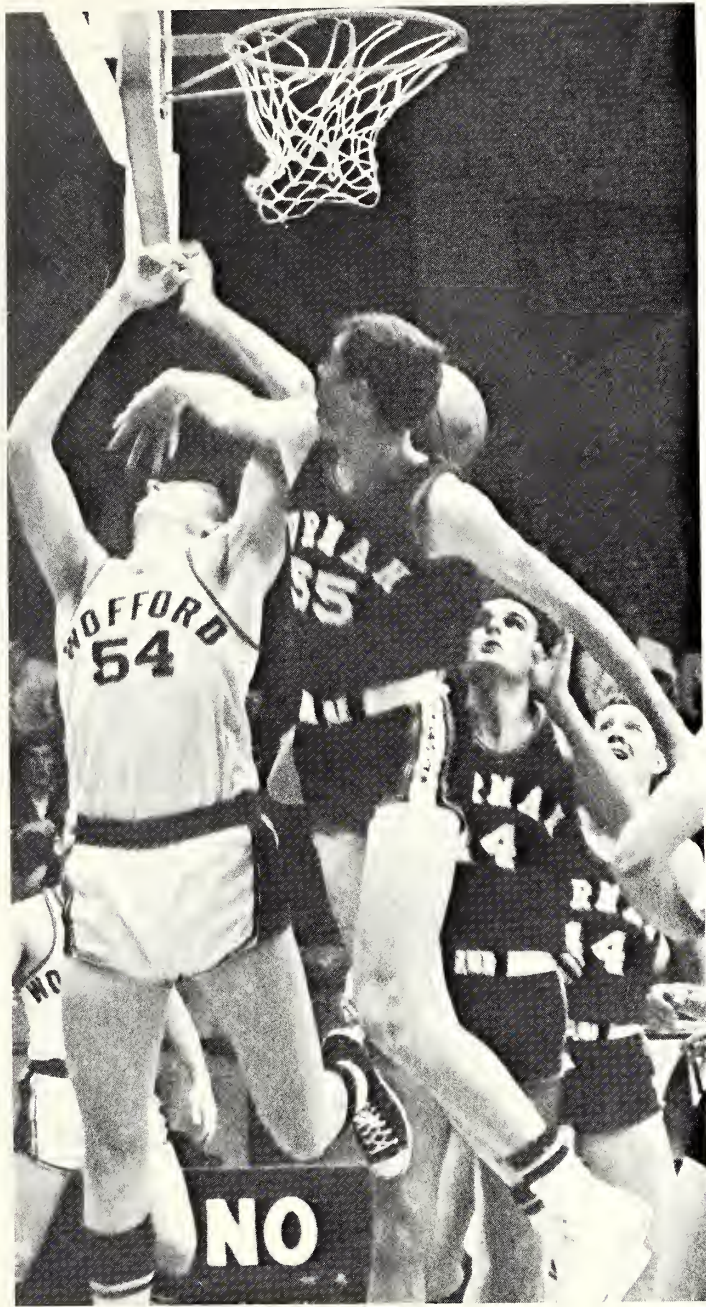

Coach Gene Alexander

BASEBALL

After finishing with a 6-6 record in 1967, the Terrier baseball team was hoping to bounce back to a winning season under a new coach, Todd Heldreth. Graduation losses were heavy, and included catcher and most valuable player Bernie Gallagher, first baseman Rich Miller and outfielders Ronnie Wilson and Rick Carlisle.

However, with a strong pitching staff headed by Ted Phelps, plus Warren Whittaker and Jimmy Littlefield to lead the hitting and an infield that promised to plug some defensive leaks, the Terriers were anticipating a successful year.

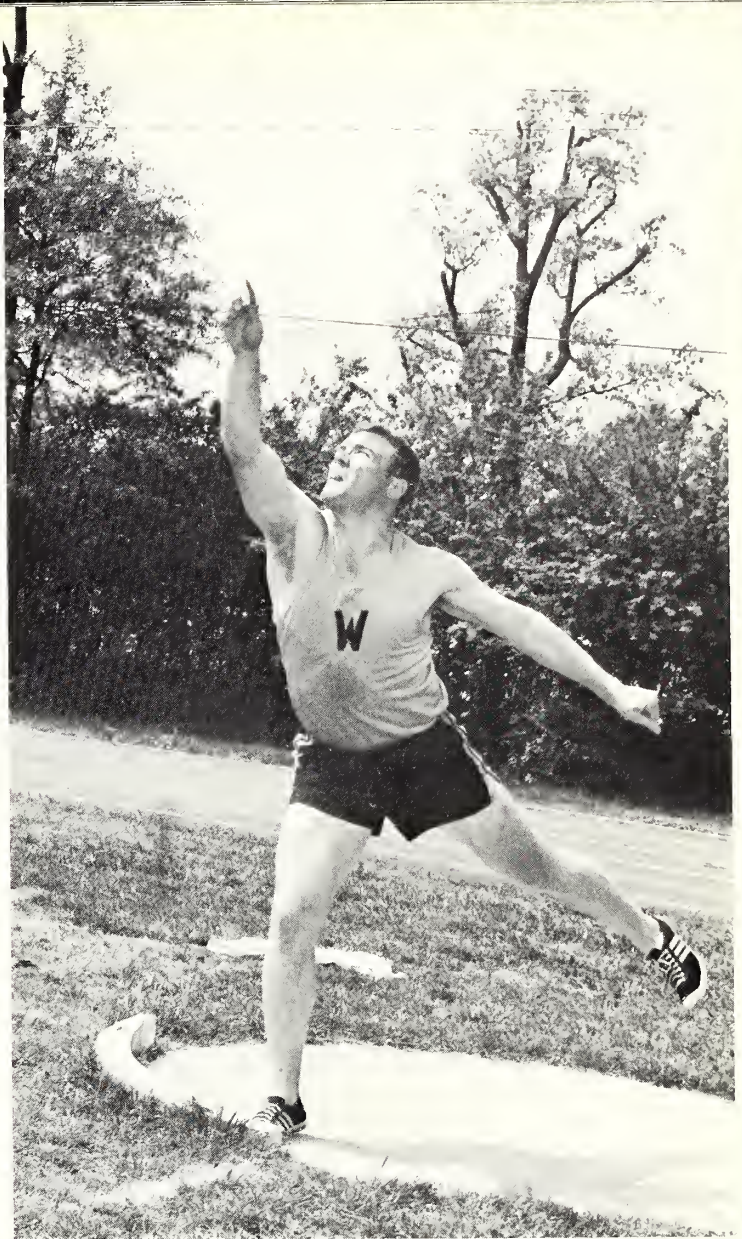

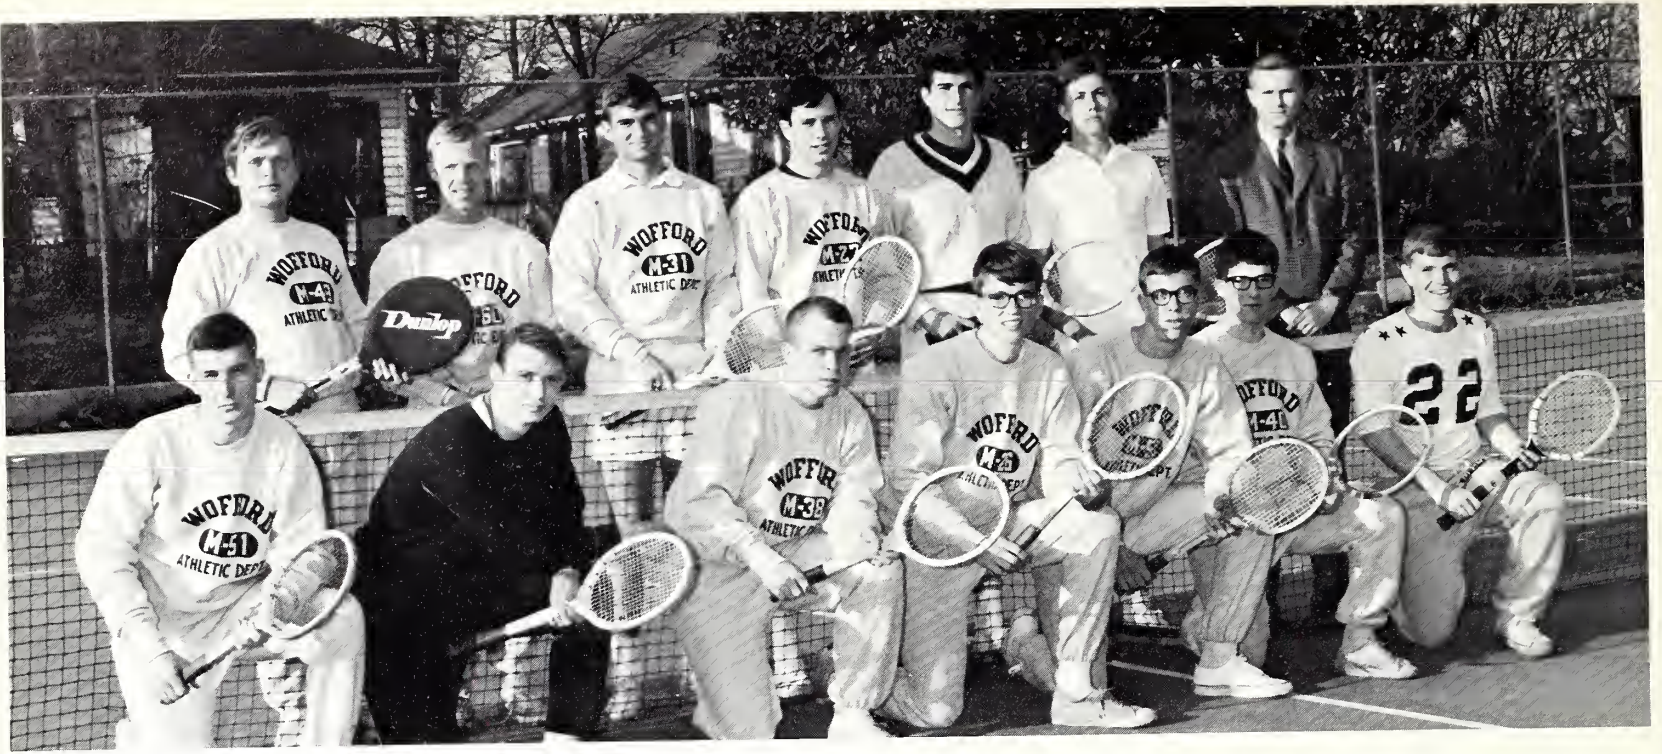

TRACK

A 5-4 record in a rebuilding 1967 season gave the Terriers an optimistic view for another winning campaign in coach Duane Staber's second year at the helm. Although several familiar faces were missing from the line-up, Wofford promised to have better depth and balance on its forty man squad.

The outstanding thinclads in the preseason evaluation were sprinters Danny Crout, Steve Swearingen, Hunt Serf and John Calvert, distance runner Bill Harkey, pole vaulter John Tally, javelin specialist Jahn Haverstock and hurdler Jimbo Jacobs.

TENNIS

Losing eleven men from a 5-9 squad in 1967 left the tennis team facing a major rebuilding job this year. Coach George Lyons, taking over the squad for the first time, had only two really experienced men, Gene Braeznell and Craig Bawer. These were backed up by a group of promising players including Bobby Randall, Ed Cole, and eight freshmen.

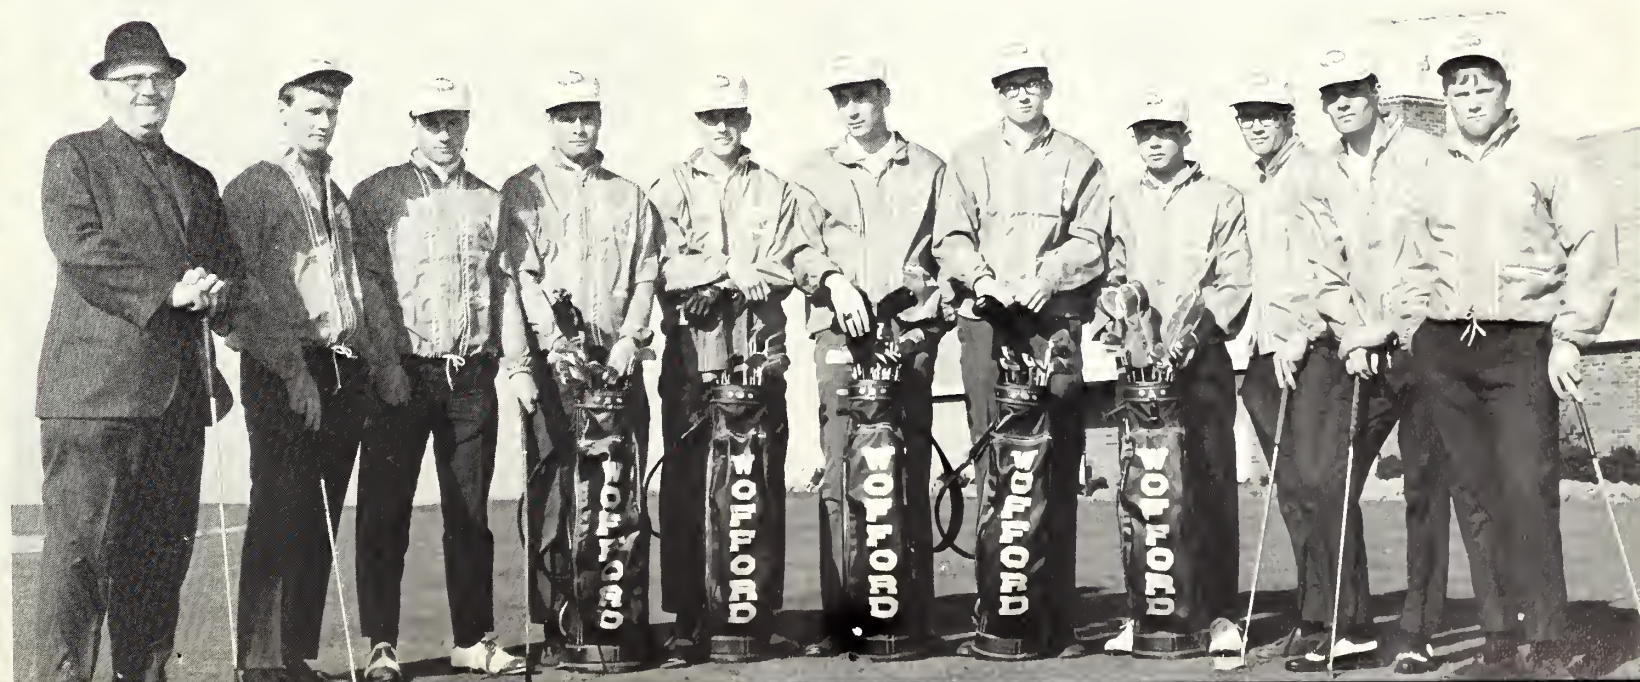

Despite the loss of Bill Zeigler and Billy Haugh from the 1967 team which posted a 21-7 record, the Terrier golf team was looking forward with optimism to 1968. Coach Earl Buice was relying on an excellent balance and depth to carry the team through a stiff schedule that included seven ACC teams.

Top returning golfers were Dick Sturkie, Dan Taylor, Jim Getgaard, Lea Beckman, George Reynolds, and Lee Brandt.

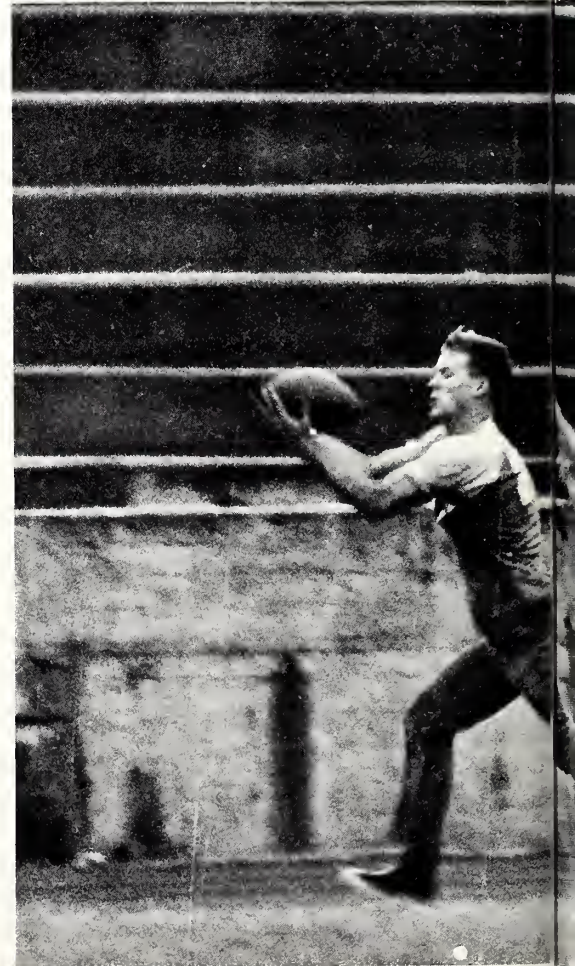

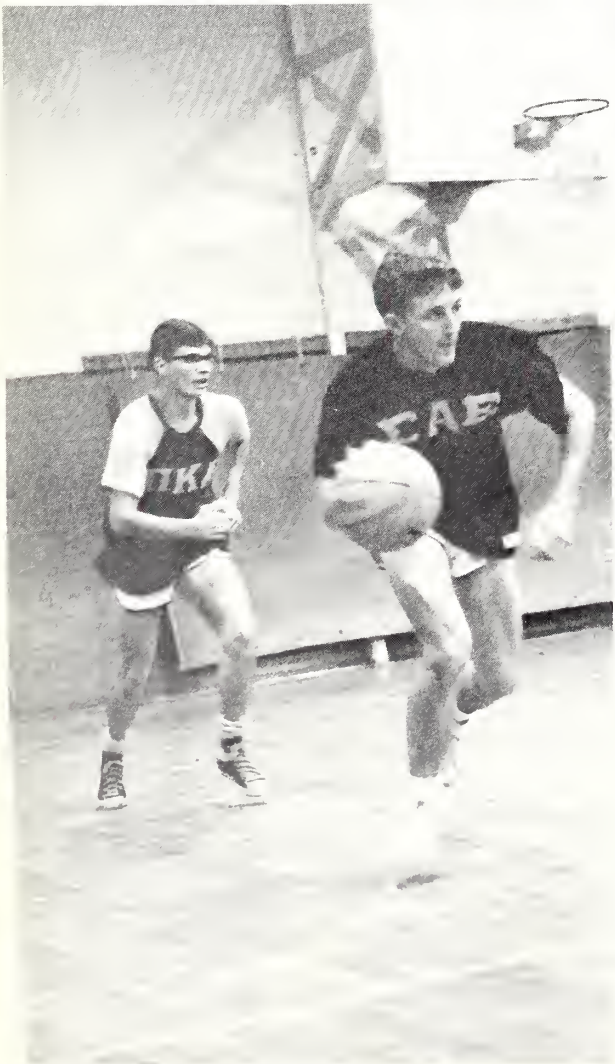

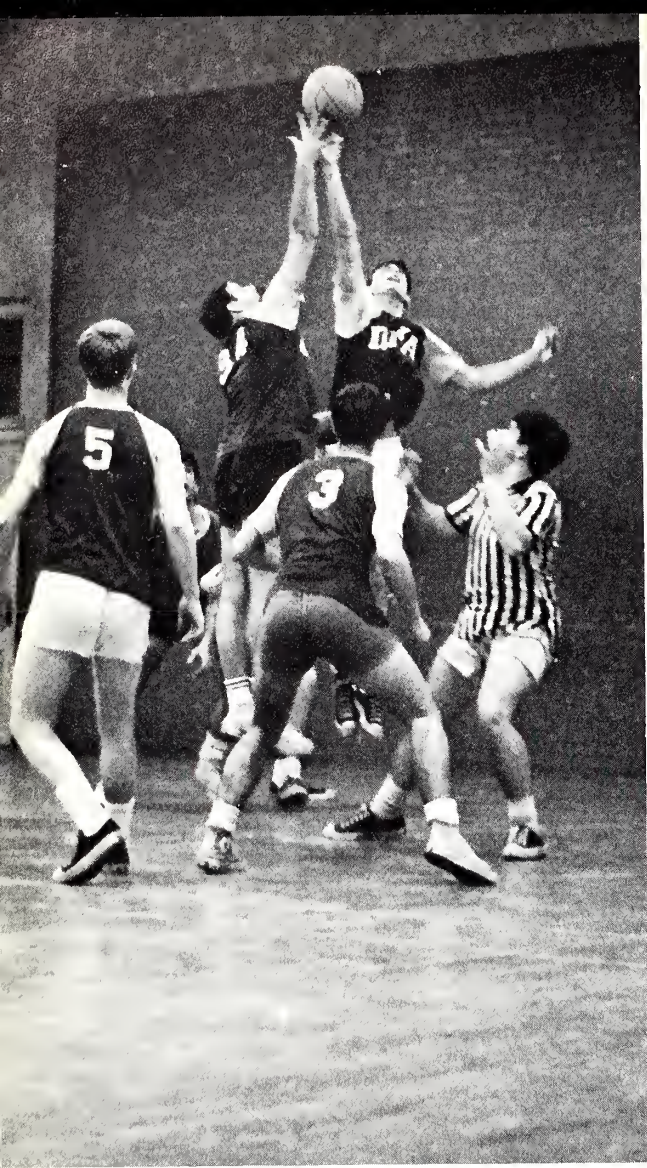

GOLF

INTRAMURALS

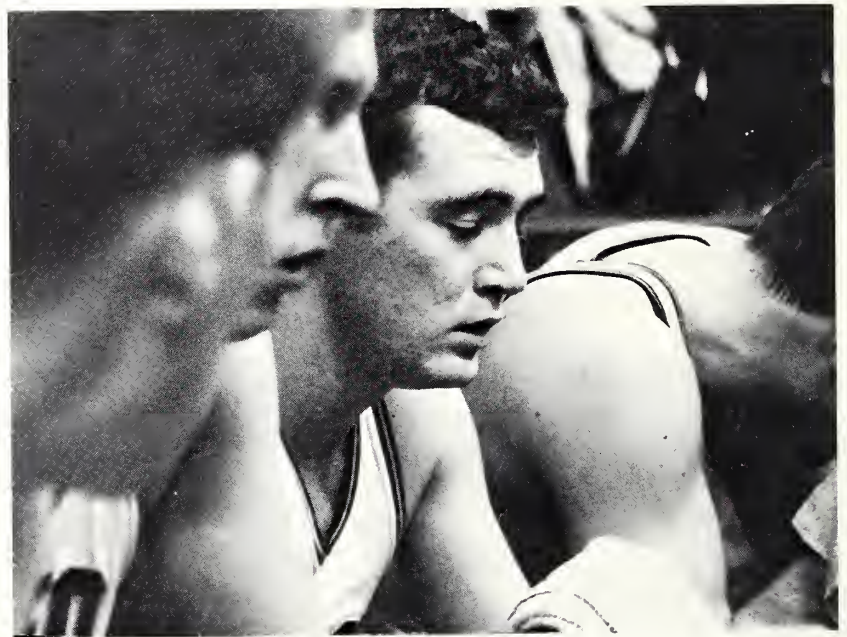

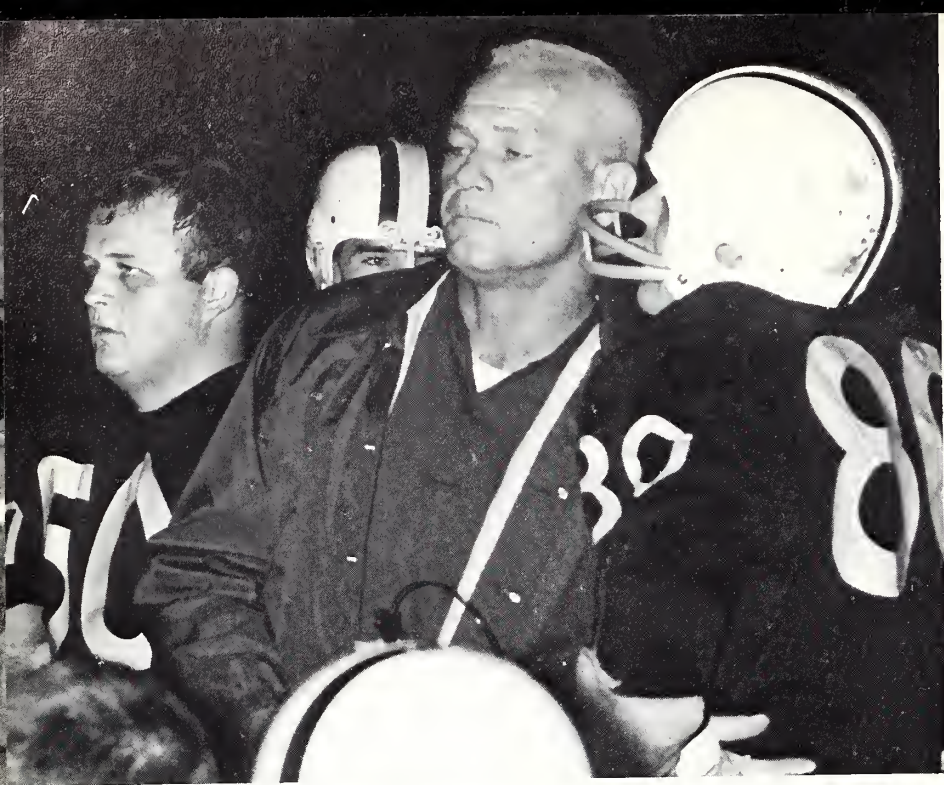

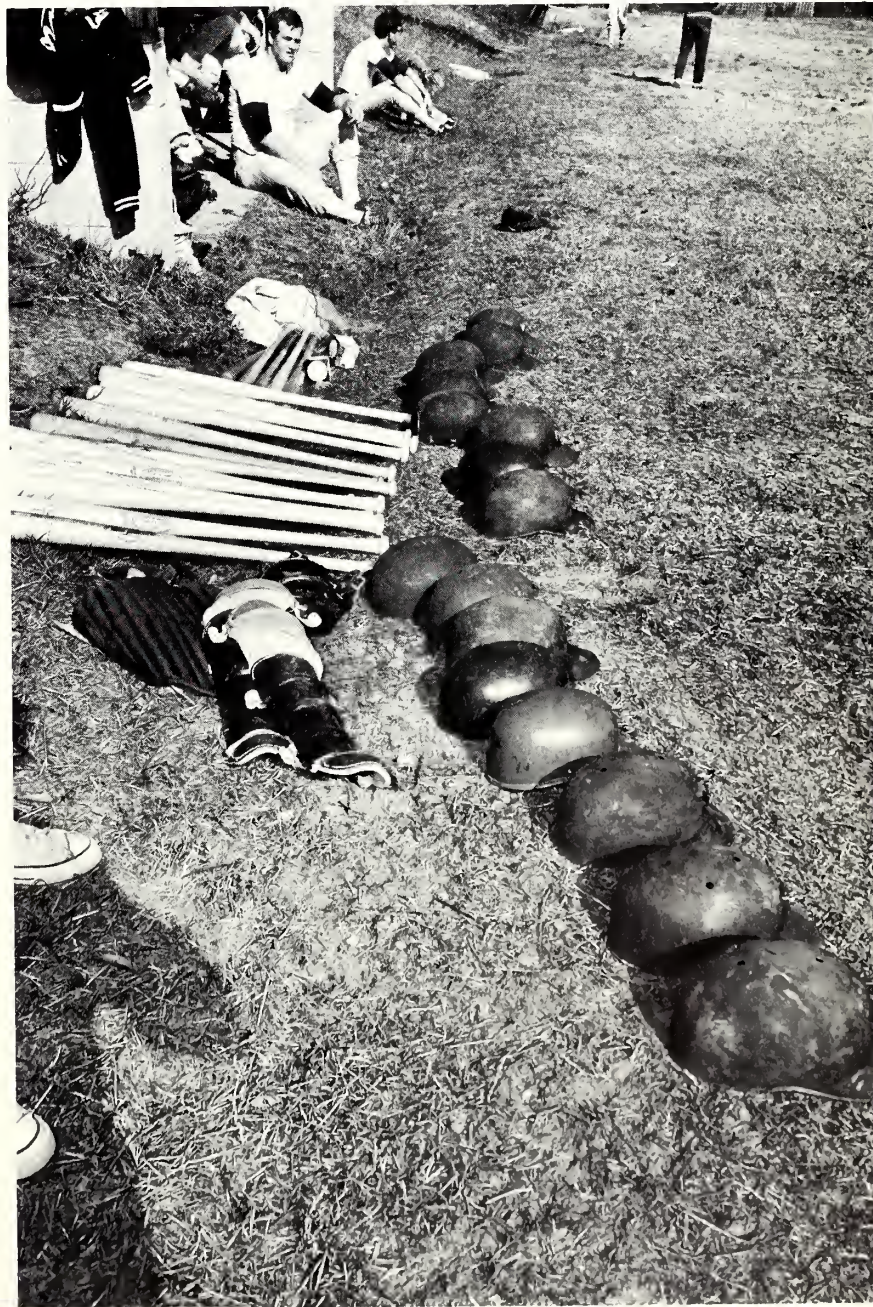

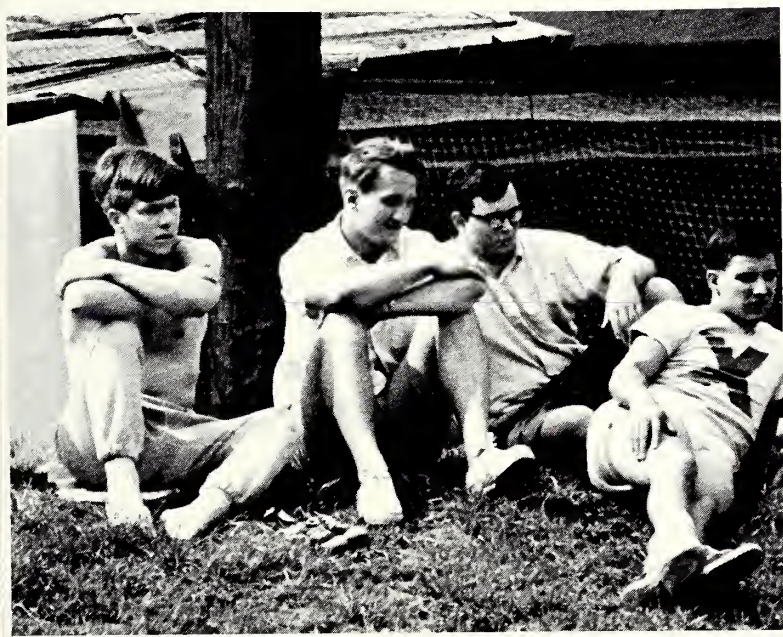

The intramural program at Wofford offers the opportunity for both team and individual competition in a wide variety of athletics ranging from ping-pong to track to blitzball. It has an active student participation and has come to be known as one of the finest programs in the South. Ronnie Ward served as student director for this year.

EPILOGUE

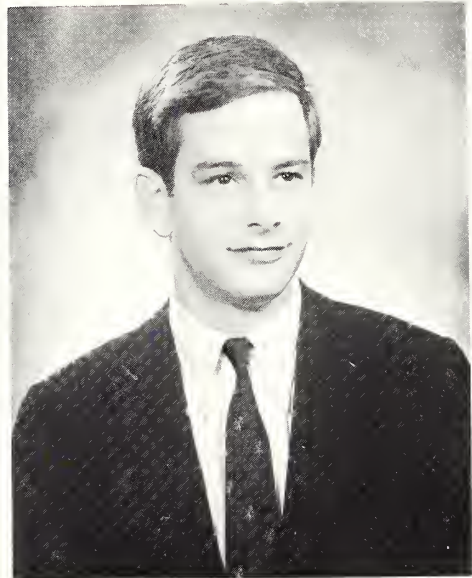

*The sun now sets on the brave new world
Dusk brings nostalgic reminiscence of toil, of joy, of tears and smiles
And tomorrow the sun of that world will rise to high noon—there to remain
And cast a light upon the obscurity of the path ahead . . .
Many times I will look back
While walking ahead on foreign soil
But know that something is pushing me—
The essence pictured here.*
